Kaiser Urges Final Desperate Attack on Warsaw

BILLION LOAN SOUGHT FOR KEEPING UP THE WAR

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 13.—Advices from Berlin say the Kaiser has appealed to General von Hindenburg to order a dash on Warsaw next week and to sacrifice everything to effect the city's capture.

The reason is believed to be his desire to have the Reichstag vote a new loan of $1,250,000,000 and it is believed the capture of Warsaw will sweep away all opposition.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—The newspapers started a campaign today against the "super patriots" responsible for the recent demonstrations against foreigners. It is believed the campaign results from orders issued by the foreign office.

BERLIN (by wireless to London), Feb. 13.—Once more Germany rejoices over the victories of Von Hindenburg. "The old man of the lakes" has aroused the national spirit to the highest pitch.

It is becoming more apparent daily that the Russian offensive in East Prussia has been completely crushed. The forces which essayed a drive against Konigsberg and Thorn have been expelled from German territory. Some dispatches describe the retreat as "dangerously near a rout."

Only a small measure of the details of the victory are made public, but estimates today place the number of Russians captured at 30,000. Many guns and enormous quantities of ammunition and supplies were also taken.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The "Cabinet" is considering the recall of all members of the Assembly now serving at the front. Owing to complex legislative problems it is believed they can serve their country better in their seats in the Chamber than on the firing line.

Warships Guard Liners From German Raiders as They Leave England

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Great interest was manifested today in the sailing of the liners Lusitania and St. Paul from Liverpool to New York.

There is no reason to believe the vessels will be interfered with; but it is realized there is a possibility of submarine attacks.

Many Americans are sailing on the steamers, fearing the establishment of a German blockade may cut off transportation.

The British admiralty is silent, but it is generally believed the Lusitania and St. Paul are secretly accompanied by torpedo boat destroyers.

BERLIN (by wireless to London), Feb. 13.—The German foreign office considers that the American note regarding the extension of the war zone has complicated the international situation.

This is admitted by officials here. The imperial chancellor today conferred with the foreign secretary over the outlines of the note. He assumes the position that the American demand has greatly embarrassed Germany and will have to be the subject of a Cabinet council.

No reply will be made for the present.

It is understood the entire text of the message has been forwarded to the Kaiser on the eastern battle front and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IS BARRED FROM STEAMSHIP HOLDINGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Southern Pacific railroad must dispose of its holdings in the Pacific Mail Steamship Company unless the operation of vessels of that company through the Panama canal shall cease within sixty days, according to a ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

The decision held that the operation of steamships through the canal rendered the Southern Pacific's holdings of the line illegal. Under the Panama Act a steam carrier cannot hold stock in a steamship company operating through the canal which is a possible competitor to a carrier. The result of the decision is that the

ROTH ENTERS ON FIFTY-NINTH DAY OF LONG FAST VERY WEAK

PALO ALTO, Feb. 13.—The long fast of Louis Roth entered its fifty-ninth day today, with the fast still unbroken. Though his weight has shrunk from 145 to 85 pounds, Roth is determined to persist until his tongue clears.

"This is no fake fast," stated Professor E. E. Swain, of Stanford. "Roth has not eaten for nearly two months. Every development of the case is being carefully watched."

NEW FARMING INVENTION

TAYLOR, N. D., Feb. 13.—A machine that will shock bundles from the reaper, thus doing away with the help formerly needed to follow the reaper, has been invented here by Erland Paulson, according to the claims of his friends today.

HERE'S AN 'EYE-OPENER' FOR YOU—AND MADE BY A PREACHER, TOO

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—Fighting the devil with fire is the idea of Rev. A. S. Greeg, secretary of the American Civic Reform League, and a widely known prohibitionist.

Mr. Greeg figures that a morning eye-opener and a night-cap are perfectly permissible—but the drink's the thing. So he has invented a brew, which he says will do the work.

Its ingredients are honey, lemon juice, spring water, capsicum, tea—for that bracing effect—and oil of peppermint.

WILSON BOOM IS LAUNCHED BY NEW JERSEY

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 13.—Although President Wilson may not have meant to "start anything" with respect to a second term when he said in his Indianapolis speech that the people might later on have opportunity to render a decision on his accomplishments, the Democracy of New Jersey certainly has started out with the single purpose of accomplishing that which the President disavowed.

The State committee prior to the fall election took quarters here in a building on West State not far from the Capitol and past which all the politicians must go on their way to the seat of the State government. The purpose of establishing these quarters last fall was not for the purpose of issuing campaign literature and helping keep New Jersey in line in 1914 so much as it was to begin the fight that the Democrats of the state intend making in 1916 to return Woodrow Wilson to the president's chair.

LAWYERS WOULD HAVE PUBLIC DEFENDER NAMED

The Orange County Bar Association, with twenty-six members present, went on record last night in favor of creating the office of public defender in Orange county. Two oppose the measure.

Declarations that divorces should not be made harder to get came from several of the lawyers present. Some indorse and some oppose Senator Anderson's legislative measures, which, if passed, will make the district attorney's office appear in all divorce cases.

A proposal to move the County Law Library to the Spurgeon block is under consideration. Proposal was made to have the county clerk prepare all decrees in probate matters.

A majority of the lawyers of Orange county think that the county ought to have a public defender. There is before the Legislature a measure providing that such an officer be provided for each of the first ten counties of the state. Orange county is fourteenth. Last night at its banquet the attorneys voted, Attorneys H. C. Head and W. W. Simon opposing, in favor of extending the measure so that Orange county may be included. Senator Anderson, who will get a chance to vote on the proposal, expressed himself as favorable to the public defender idea. Assemblyman Burke did not say what he thought of it, except that the measure is a popular one at Sacramento.

According to the bill, a public defender shall appear for all persons charged with crime who are unable to employ defense. He shall appear in civil actions for the defendant when the defendant makes an affidavit that he is unable to employ an attorney, and it is to be his duty to handle free of charges claims for wages.

Present System Unfair
Among those who declared that the present system of appointing attorneys in alphabetical order to defend indigents accused of crime is unfair.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT STORE PROVES SUCCESS FOR CINCINNATI'S POOR

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13.—A municipal "department store" working two days for charity, was today voted an established success here. As a result hundreds of Cincinnati's poor are today wearing twenty-five-cent shoes, five-cent overcoats, fifty-cent suits of clothes and other apparel which they avoided charity by buying and paying for like ordinary folks in ordinary department stores.

The municipal "department store" is conducted by the city's "bundle day" committee. Work-clothing is gathered from the residence districts. It is then taken to "municipal workshops" where "unemployed" men and women are paid a decent wage to mend and put it in presentable condition. The next step in the "department store," garments are sold at minimum prices to the needy. But none but the needy need apply for "permits to buy" are issued after due investigation of each applicant.

The municipal "department store" profited $187.67, or an average of 14 cents on each garment in three days. This money was used to pay $1472.18 to "unemployed members" in the "municipal workshop." The balance represented "cash on hand" for future operation.

MAY WHEAT SLUMPS OFF TO DOLLAR-FIFTY

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—May wheat slumped sensationally today. At 11 o'clock it touched $1.50 1/2, a loss of 9 cents since yesterday's closing. Reports of melting snow and reports showing winter wheat in the West to be in prime condition were responsible for the sensational break.

May wheat closed at $1.54 1/4; July at $1.29 1/2.

FINGER PRINTS IN BLOOD CLUE TO SLAYERS OF RICH PAIR

OAKLAND, Feb. 13.—O. J. Woodward, former president of the First National Bank of Oakland, arrived today and added $1000 to the $2000 already offered by the sons of Jacob Vogel, the banker, who, with his wife, was found murdered in their home yesterday.

Finger prints left by the murderers on the woodwork and curtains are the only clues left for the police. A Bertillon expert took careful copies today and it is expected to trace the murderers by them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—"Frederick Mors, the 'confessed' murderer of eight inmates of the Old Fellows' Home at Yonkers, will be deported as insane. The authorities accept Mors' stories as the ravings of a maniac.

APACHES AID OFFICERS IN DESPERATE GUN FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Several immigration inspectors and a posse of Apache Indians today overcame a gang of Americans led by a woman who were smuggling Chinese into the United States.

The battle occurred along the sea basin near Thermal, where the smugglers ambushed the officers.

Two smugglers, four contraband Chinese and two automobiles were captured.

Two smugglers and two Chinese escaped and are thought to be wounded. All the Indian trailers from the Martinez reservation are tracking the escapes, and it is thought they will be captured before night.

The officers were hard pressed by the smugglers until the Apaches came to their aid and turned the tide of battle.

Those under arrest are Goldie Evans, said to be the leader, and H. Duckley.

Complaints charging them with smuggling have already been filed in the federal district court here, and they will be brought to Los Angeles tonight.

A week ago Captain C. T. Connell, chief of the immigration bureau, was informed by secret service agents to watch for an attempted smuggling plot from Calexico.

He stationed guards on all roads leading from the Imperial Valley.

At 2 o'clock this morning, inspector Frank Stanley, Forest Ranger Vanderventer and Constable T. White of Indio, who were guarding the highway, halted two automobiles containing the smugglers.

A pitched battle followed, the Indians coming up just in time to save the officers from being overcome.

SHIP PURCHASING COMPROMISE LAUNCHED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—A compromise administration ship purchase bill was launched in the House today. It was introduced by Chairman Padgett of the Naval Committee, and carried a rule limiting consideration to six hours.

Next week Chairman Alexander of the Merchant Marine Committee will have charge of the measure in the House.

It is stated the compromise bill, though personally approved by President Wilson, will not be accepted by the Senate Republicans.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well. Advertisement.

LAWYERS WOULD HAVE PUBLIC DEFENDER

were Attorneys Clyde Bishop, H. J. Forgy and E. E. Keech. Bishop and Forgy said the state has no right to take the time of any attorney without compensation, as is done now. Keech said he hoped to see the time when all prisoners shall have the same public defender, just as now there is a public prosecutor of all who are accused of crime. Bishop said that the present law is unfair to the accused person, for it does not give him an attorney until the case reaches the superior court. The time he needs an attorney most is directly after he is arrested and in his preliminary examination.

"I think it best for society to have all prisoners ably defended," said Senator Anderson.

Attorney H. C. Head declared that this county does not need a public defender, that the office would be a useless expense. He said the present system works no real hardship, and attorneys receiving an appointment to an indigent case only once in a year or so ought not to object. He said no damage is done to criminals through the present method.

Forgy did not see that lawyers ought without compensation, to take care of indigents charged with crime any more than doctors should be compelled without compensation to take care of indigents.

When R. Y. Williams, vice president of the Bar Association, presiding, called for a vote only two negatives were expressed.

Divorce Discussion

Senator Anderson said that he would like a discussion upon three bills that are proposed. These bills, in brief, provide that the district attorney's office shall be served with papers in all divorce actions, and shall appear at all divorce trials. The purpose of the bills, said the Senator, is to head off collusion and perjury in divorce trials. He said that Judge Bordwell had said that he thinks 60 per cent of all divorces in this state are procured through collusion or on perjured testimony.

"The district attorney has got no business in divorce cases," declared Attorney Bishop. "All this agitation against divorces appears to be a fad. Divorces ought to be easier to get instead of harder. There is no justice in an attempt by reformers to compel a woman to live with a drunken brute of a husband, no justice in compelling her to remain tied legally to a man who will not support her, and to make man and wife live together after they have lost all regard for each other puts them in the same class with the adulterers."

Suggestions Made

Attorneys H. V. Weisel, B. E. Tarver and L. A. Daniel declared that divorce should not be made extremely hard to get. W. R. Garrett of Orange said one good reason for having the district attorney's office represented is to prevent a powerful litigant defeating one who has no means or knowledge of how to proceed to prevent defeat. Forgy suggested that if the law was changed so that the guilty litigant be compelled to spend a year in the penitentiary there would be fewer divorces.

Attorney Wallace W. Davis said it would be a good idea to strike out some of the causes for divorce. Attorney H. G. Ames said that if there was just the one canonical cause for divorce, couples considering marriage would look upon it less as a probationary proposition. If divorces were more tedious, there would be fewer hasty marriages.

Attorney Keech declared that the trouble is not with the ease or hardship in getting divorces. He said the real trouble lies in hasty marriages. Take many of the couples that make Santa Ana a Gretna Green. They marry without deliberation. A ten-minute acquaintance is not necessary. Banns should be abolished.

Attorney W. A. Ater said that a public defender could make divorces more difficult to secure.

Thirty days' notice of intention to marry was suggested by Attorney Head.

Serious Suspicions

The statement credited to Judge Bordwell that 60 per cent of the divorces are secured by collusion or on perjured testimony, brought out a call to the superior judges to participate in the discussion.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, severely and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of loss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

FACTS ABOUT CALIFORNIA

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

At the Alisal beet pulp feeding station in Monterey County 2750 steers are being fattened on the pulp and chopped alfalfa. It takes from eighty to 100 days to finish up a bullock on this ration, and the feeding is so timed that as soon as one bunch goes to the shambles a new lot of feeders come in. The beet pulp is hauled by train from the Spreckels sugar factory and dumped in silos so that feeding can be carried on throughout the year. The feeding corrals are on the site of the first college in California, which was opened by W. E. P. Hartnell in 1827.

The largest single tract of alfalfa in the United States has just been sown near Corcoran, Kings county, on El Rico project. It comprises 2560 acres. The company has spent the summer leveling, checking and ditching the land, which has now been sown, the young alfalfa already being visible. It is anticipated that at least 10,000 tons of alfalfa will be harvested there this year, and by the time the alfalfa is producing its maximum the amount will be nearer 30,000 than 20,000 tons.

The new price list for raisins went into effect on the first of this month, but not before jobbers all over the United States had sent in their orders calling for thousands of tons of Sultanas, Muscats and seeded raisins. One New York firm bought from Giffin-Hoffs Company of Fresno 1000 tons of Sultanas. The same company is reported to have purchased through another firm 500 tons of the same variety. The Phoenix Company has just closed an order for Officials of the Porterville Poultry and Pet Stock Association have been chosen for the ensuing year to include Lacy Threlkeld, president; T. M. Slusser, secretary, and E. F. Bennett, treasurer. E. D. Fawcett was chosen as show manager. It is the plan of the organization to stage this year what will be, the officials say, the most comprehensive and ambitious poultry exhibition to be held anywhere in California.

Porterville oranges were shipped for the first time via the Panama canal this week, when a small consignment of the local fruit was consigned to San Francisco, where it was loaded on an American-Hawaiian liner for the trip through the great waterway to New York. This consignment, which will go under refrigeration, is largely in the nature of an experiment.

Tentative plans are under way for the biggest fair ever given in Northern California, to be held in Marysville during the month of August, 1915. Four counties, Yuba, Sutter, Butte and Nevada, will participate. It will be presented under the auspices of the Yuba County Chamber of Commerce.

Orange growers of the Yokohl, El Mirador and Lindsay district, in Tulare County, are signing a form of agreement for the organization of an irrigation district under the terms of the Wright law to reclaim a district of 25,000 acres by water from the run-off of the Yokohl Valley.

Raisin growers who delivered their 1913 crop to the California Associated Raisin Company will receive at an early date approximately $350,000 in addition to payments already made. Stockholders will also receive a 5 per cent dividend.

Sacramento capitalists will plant 163 acres of land to pears and olives on the D. J. Shinn ranch near Eldorado.

the genuineness of testimony often," said Judge West, "but I should say that my suspicions have not reached into 10 per cent of the cases I have tried. It is a judge's duty to decide a case according to the evidence and the law. The evidence in a default case comes in all from one side. Though the judge has the authority to call witnesses, he is nevertheless almost helpless. The case comes before him without previous deliberation or investigation on his part. Personally, I think the bills providing for the appearance of the district attorney's office have a good deal of merit."

Banns Unpopular

"So far as the publication of banns is concerned," said Senator Anderson, "I might say that at the sessions of two different legislatures I tried very hard to get laws through providing for the publication of banns. Those laws absolutely had no chance of passage. 'We ought to have the facts in every divorce case,' declared Judge Thomas, 'and these measures are in the right direction. I would urge Senator Anderson and Assemblyman Burke to support them. When we talk about the evils of divorce we are really only talking of the symptoms. The real cause is in hasty and ill-considered marriages. That is where the foundation of the trouble lies.'

THE MEANING OF LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

In the addresses given at the Lincoln's birthday celebrations, the emphasis is commonly placed on Lincoln's lowly origin, as an encouragement to boys of humble birth to make the most of themselves. This is a glorious truth, and countless boys from lowly surroundings have from this example been heartened to fight on against heavy odds.

Lincoln's father was a destitute farmer when he removed from Kentucky to the backwoods of Indiana. But he had the energy to emigrate to a new country, when he saw no chance for himself in a more settled community. This indicated resolution and persistence, which must have had its part in forming young Abe's character.

The boy from the hovel today has an even less favorable inheritance. He may live within the reach of good schools; but too often he comes uneducated from a hovel, because the father has spent his money for rum, or is too indolent to work. The yellow streak of shiftlessness descends from father to son. If the children fail to rise, poverty is not the trouble but the bad inheritance and family example.

The community sentiment damns a whole neighborhood for its squalor, and can see no possible good in Nazareth. But in almost any mean surroundings there are always rough diamonds, children that could climb if they could get away from depressing circumstances. Countless cases are recorded of those who have risen from such environment, through the encouragement of teachers, employers, social workers.

But unless some friendly hand pulls them out of the muck, they will succumb in early youth to the pressure of circumstance. This is the meaning of Lincoln's birthday to our modern American life.

THINKING QUIETLY

When Paul wrote "That ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business," to a tiny community in the Macedonian seaport of Thessalonica, he could hardly have supposed that his advice would extend beyond the people to whom it was addressed, but wherever the Christian gospel reaches today, this letter and these words of advice accompany it. According to Paul, it does not come natural to us to think quietly, it requires "study," and this kind of thinking is, moreover, to take the eminently profitable form of minding one's own business, or at least to be accompanied by it. Now, as then, our interests, our ideas, and our affairs, have become so strangely and inextricably intermingled that we too often accept the mere absence of disappointment and failure as though this were the realization of our fondest hopes, and yet we dare not forego our anxiety and ceaseless activity with regard to them all, for fear of what might happen if we did, and partly also because of our dread of stagnation.

Every one, we believe, desires the freedom of peace in his own heart, but it is doubtful whether this can be attained until one has learned to differentiate between mental stagnation and the faculty of thinking quietly. Fear of stagnation may drive a man to start "making" business, when the time is not ripe, and the penalty for this mistake may be that he finds himself with a problem that will give him much work to set right again. An astute observer of business methods and business men once gave it as his opinion that "the secret of success in business lay in learning 'how to do nothing' well." Perhaps this is merely a paradoxical way of restating Paul's advice, because learning how to "do" nothing must be the studying to be quiet—the falling back on the reserves of quiet thought; and the doing of it "well" must mean minding your own business, because the assumption is that business, in the understood sense of participation in the affairs of others, offers no profit for the time being.

This ability to think quietly, then, so far from being mental stagnation, is actually the ability to rise above that dread foe, and is the purest activity. While we appreciate this quality in others, we are apt to look upon ourselves as too matter of fact to be able to grasp it, and while fervently expressing the readiness to give "anything for a quiet life," we really as a rule give very little indeed. Studying to be quiet is learning to look beneath the surface of things, to seek the idea rather than its husk.

If we study rightly, there will begin to unfold to us an underlying purpose and system in all that we observe, and, if we are not tricked back to the surface by the senses, there will be great profit from this kind of study in the peace and the beauty and the absence of entanglement or embarrassment that is revealed in those things that are not seen.

First of all, however, the belief of forced action as the only antidote to stagnation, has to be given up. When the promptings to be doing "something" are strongest, then is the time to ponder the advice of the sweet singer of Israel to "flee as a bird to your mountain,"—that pure and exalted realm of thought where activity takes the form of serene quietude.—Christian Science Monitor.

ANOTHER DRY MOVEMENT

The moon will have no chance to be full in the month of February this year. In revolving to the music of the spheres the calendar has slipped a cog for the first time since 1846 and the earth's faithful valet can't get "all lit up."

The moon's period is 29½ days. For the last 69 years February has managed to be in time for the big show despite the fact that in three years out of four it has only 28 days.

February this year was so short that its 28 days fell in between the beginning and the end of the moon's phases. If it had been leap year, the situation would have been different, as February, having 29 days in leap year, would have caught at least a glimpse of the moon when it was full.

As some compensation for its enforced abstinence, the moon will be full twice in March this year, and full in every February for the next 69 years. In 1984 there will be no full moon in February. Watch and see.

THE REGENERATION OF RELIGION

Wm. Allen White in Outlook

Religion a generation ago was other-worldly. Heaven and hell, the Doctrine of Atonement; the controversy over the miracles; the wrangle over the personality of the god-head—these were the subjects—highly emotionalized subjects, too—that interested the religious minds of that day.

How far we have come in forty years! Disputes over creeds are passing; the doctrine of the apostolic succession, which the Catholics hold, does not keep the Methodists from fraternizing with the Catholics in every good cause. The old conflict between science and religion is dead; religion and science have agreed. Heaven and hell no longer are the chief ends of religious life. We live for this world; religion preaches conduct before creed. Men don't avoid evil to keep from going to hell, but because they know that meanness makes its own hell here on this earth, and that in the long run it pays to be decent. The earthly hell is so much more palpable than the hell to come, that people are on the whole governing themselves more in fear of the hell that is than in fear of the hell that shall be. And heaven—no man whose mind could conceive of a heaven that would be less than a boredom, would go there if he had to go alone, if he couldn't save his fellows by saving himself.

So, as men and women are seeing that "none of us liveth to himself," they are realizing that no man goeth to hell or to heaven to "himself." The social meaning of religion is being emphasized today. Social salvation, as well as personal salvation, is being taught in the churches. And the church is teaching young people to play; is helping to furnish employment; is organizing benevolence; is standing in politics for clean cities, just states and a righteous nation.

We have come a long, long way in religion in forty years. And we are going forward fast. It would be fine to be here fifty years from now!

A LIVE SPORT LETTER

By Hal Sheridan

NEW YORK.—One of the choicest morsels in the fist line that has been dished up for the box-fight fans in a long time will be the Johnny Williams-Johnny Kilbane six-round set, carded for Philadelphia February 24.

This will be the first time in the recent history of the padded mit game that two actual undisputed champions have faced each other in battle. Williams is a "regular" champion. In his recent battles in this city the conquerer of Johnny Coulon made the old-timers think of the famous masters of the past.

"None of the great little men of the past ever had anything on that youngster," said one grey-haired fan, as he watched Williams beat a tattoo on the ribs of one Dutch Brandt, a New York star. "Williams is a far better man than Johnny Coulon ever was," he continued.

One thing that made Williams look mighty good in his contests here was his splendid condition. He fairly radiated good health. He started off like a veritable whirlwind in his bout with Brandt. And each round saw him increasing his speed a little. In the tenth round he was going like a buzz and didn't give the least impression of being tired.

Williams will have a tremendous handicap to overcome, however, when he tangles with the king of the featherweights. Kilbane will have a tremendous advantage in height and reach. The Cleveland boxer has a wallop, too, as he has demonstrated on several occasions.

Over the six-round course the wise ones are striding with Kilbane. It is their belief that he will show too much speed for his lighter opponent for the short distance. If the pair should ever hook up over the marathon route—twenty-rounds—Williams probably would be the favorite.

Foundation Stones for Agricultural Success

[NOTE—"What are the fundamental principles of successful agriculture." This is one of a series of articles answering that question. In these brief summaries different experts of the faculty of the College of Agriculture of the University of California have set forth succinctly the basic principles of their various specialties.]

13.—THE MARKETING AND STORAGE OF FRUITS

By A. V. Stubenrauch, Professor of Pomology in the University of California.

The California fruit industry is a wholesale business; large wholesale marketing and selling methods are therefore essential.

The packing, transporting, storing, and selling of fruits are phases of the industry quite distinct from the production or growing of the crops, and as such require special business training, talents, and experience not often possessed by the ordinary grower.

The problems of marketing California fruits are problems of wide distribution.

In order to market successfully the large prospective increase in the production of fruit crops, a wider and more systematic distribution over the markets of the world must be accomplished, and the per capita consumption of fruits must be materially increased.

Over-production of fruit crops is only apparent as long as there are accessible markets which are not fully supplied; under present inadequate systems of distribution there are many such markets.

The pressing problems relating to the systematizing of marketing methods, the increase in the consumption of fruits through judicious advertising, and the broadening of distribution can be solved only through close and hearty co-operation among the growers.

The foundation upon which effective and successful co-operation among producers rests is absolute necessity for the solution of some pressing problems relating to the success of the industry.

The only true co-operative organization of fruit growers is one in which

The Political Watchtower

Wake up a couple of times, you politician. Quit your snoring, and get down on the corner of Fourth and Main streets and talk it over. The city election is almost upon you and you haven't stirred since the 3rd of November.

Santa Ana is going to have a primary election. That much has been decided by those who have the destinies of the election in their hands. It looks as though March 10 was to be the date upon which that partisan proposition is to be wrestled with. That means that if you are going to have your name on the ballot for that primary election, your nomination petition must be filed by February 25. That's only thirteen days off. Yes, indeed, old chap, it is time for you to wake up.

There has been more or less struggling and disturbance of spirit over the election. Col. Heathman has worn out the election laws. He has been unable so far to discover any provision whereby a candidate can run independent. He says it is going to be a partisan proposition, and if you do not run as a party candidate, why you just can't run at all, that's all.

It looks as though we are in the midst of a strange situation. Here we have struggled through a county primary election and have gotten used to selecting our county officers on a non-partisan basis. We liked it so well that we elected Democrats for assessor, treasurer and one supervisor, a Progressive for auditor and Republicans for various and sundry positions. We cast a big vote for a Progressive for governor and a big vote for a Democrat for congressman, and elected a Republican to the Assembly. We have seized upon the non-partisan idea and have strung it out all along the line. You never saw a place like Orange county to get right down to the business of voting for the man, especially in local affairs.

And now we are going back to fight out our city election along lines of Democracy, Republicanism, Progressivism, Socialism and Prohibition. We are going to be compelled to vote upon a candidate first as a member of our party and then as a candidate for city office.

But when a thing's so, it's so. Therefore, consider. We are going to elect five city trustees, a city attorney, a city marshal, a city recorder, a city treasurer and five members of the Board of Education.

So far as the city recorder is concerned we do not need to know what party he belongs to. So far as the aspirants for membership on the School Board is concerned, we can forget whether or not they believe in the present administration at Washington or in the present administration at Sacramento. We can go right along and vote as we know the candidates.

According to the present understanding of the city attorney we can't run for city trustee, attorney, marshal or treasurer unless you belong to some party and have so stated your affiliation. These "decline to state" folks can't run. The city attorney present board is going to run again.

It will cost $10 for the filing of nomination papers. And if you run for membership of the school board, you have to dig up just as though the job pays $125 a month. The law says $10 must be forthcoming, and what the law says goes, by gum. The secretary of the school board hitherto has been selected from the board and to that position a salary of $25 or $30 a month is attached, and they do say that the Taxpayers' League can never aver that that job is one that is over-salaried.

For the treasurership no absolutely certain announcements have been made. It is probable that City Treasurer H. D. Connell will run. Mrs. Olive Lopez has had the race under consideration.

Early oranges command the best prices. Early oranges grow in Tulare county. Many groves in the Tulare county citrus belt pay owners a net annual profit of $800 to $1000 per acre while the average general for the state is about $300 per acre. There is no scale nor smut. Growers in Tulare county market their crops for $75 to $125 less per acre than the cost to the Southern California grower. La Gloria Rancho soil is deep and rich. Good for lemons, olives, figs, peaches, nuts, tobacco, vegetables and general dairy products. We will build homes for responsible parties and make satisfactory payment arrangements. WANTED—Live man to represent us in this locality.

A Statement Regarding INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS BETWEEN Japan and the U. S. A.

In view of the recent events which have tended to bring regret and distress to those persons who have cherished deeply the historic friendship between the United States and Japan, and in view of the popular impression that a feeling of international ill-will has its special source on our western coast and particularly in the State of California, the undersigned take the liberty of making public the following statement:

As American citizens and residents of California, we wish to express our deep conviction that the manifestation of genuine good-will happily characteristic of our relations with Japan, has been one of the most fortunate experiences of our whole international history. And, notwithstanding all appearances to the contrary, we believe that an appreciation of the great benefits accruing to both nations by reason of this friendship is firmly established among the thoughtful people of our coast and is rightfully a source of confident expectation that this friendship is permanently to continue.

In this connection we desire not only to assert our strong opposition to any additional anti-alien legislation, counting this matter to be of primary and decisive importance as related both in the use of our suffrages and to such civic influence as may be ours in any way to exert, but we are also opposed to any and all anti-alien legislation of whatever sort which is discriminatory in character, desiring only to preserve to each country in friendliest fashion those best elements of national personality which shall ultimately be of the largest mutual advantage. In this, also, we believe that we are voicing the thoughtful citizenship of our state.

We beg that our Japanese friends will steadfastly remember that it is always the bitter word and the aggressive act, with its sinister interpretation, that find quickest and most manifold speeding upon their way; that, whereas there exist in our several countries laws against slander, there are, as yet, no international defenses against the far greater and more insidious crime of malicious and inflammatory international misrepresentation; that the deliberate and malicious counsels of society are characteristically slow to find expression, and that the definite determination to bring these better counsels into the open is part of the truest statesmanship.

We beg leave to call attention to the fact that while we speak wholly as individuals in this matter, the undersigned include officials of all the educational institutions commonly recognized as of collegiate and university standing in the southern half of the State of California; that, being naturally associated in our educational work, we also find ourselves in the most hearty and united accord in this statement; and that we believe that we represent the practically unanimous sentiment and sympathy of the institutions which we have the honor to serve and of their constituencies.

HAPPY CELEBRATION

Birthday Honorees Give Canton Members Delightful Surprise 'Spread'

The lady Canton members had a delightful meeting Friday afternoon at the Old Fellows Hall. At the close of a business session, a surprise was in store for the club when Mrs. George Peters and Mrs. John Holt invited all into the banquet hall to partake of a bounteous repast.

Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Holt celebrated their birthdays on Feb. 11 and 12, the special "spread" honored these eventful days.

White hyacinths and violets were fashioned into a beautiful centerpiece and marguerites were also used in decorating the snowy table loaded with sandwiches, salads, cakes and coffee. Pretty Valentines marked the places at the table.

As a merry diversion, after the birthday treat, a guessing game was played, Mrs. J. E. Liebig winning the laurels while Mrs. Paul Anderson captured the consolation prize.

A vote of thanks was accorded the honorees for their enjoyable surprise and many gifts and birthday cards were showered on these beloved friends.

Among the Canton ladies present were Mesdames W. W. Chandler, Geo. Peters, John Holt, C. S. Hubbard, B. Uttley, J. E. Liebig, S. Jernigan, Geo. Prather and Little Alice, J. N. Martin, J. W. Mrs. Davis Recovering

Mrs. Samuel M. Davis is in a Los Angeles hospital recovering nicely from the effect of a major surgical operation to which she submitted early this week.

Her condition, while quite serious, was found to be less dangerous than her physicians' diagnosis indicated, and the operation proved entirely successful, from both the surgeon's and the patient's point of view.

Mrs. Davis is one of Santa Ana's most highly esteemed citizens, a lady of charming personality, deeply devoted to and highly efficient in all matters pertaining to the community's welfare. The happy outcome of her trying ordeal will be hailed with thankful delight by a host of friends, not only in Santa Ana but throughout the state.

COHEN-VOLK

Popular Santa Ana Girl Weds Prominent Fur Dealer of Wyoming

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Judge J. B. Cox performed the ceremony that united in marriage Miss Annie Cohen and Harry Volk, the wedding being of interest to the many friends of the charming bride, who, for the past three years, has made her home in this city.

Miss Cohen was attired in a beautiful gown of duchesse satin and carried a lovely bouquet of violets. She is the sister of Mrs. J. Schenkman, whose husband is the manager of the Smart Shop, and the latter was the only witness of the quiet ceremony.

Mr. Volk is a prominent fur dealer of Evanston, Wyoming, and he has planned an extensive honeymoon trip before taking his bride to their beautiful new home at Evanston. The newly-weds left yesterday for San Diego and later will visit the San Francisco exposition, returning to Wyoming by way of Salt Lake City.

Good wishes for a long and happy married life are extended to the happy pair from a host of admiring friends.

W. R. C. Gives Good Program

The W. R. C. program of yesterday was certainly a success; Estella Ludwig, the patriotic instructor, did herself justice in preparing such an excellent program. Alice Yount was the chairman of the tea committee. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and every one spoke of the entertainment as being excellent, and well worthy of repeating, and that such a program (as one gentleman remarked) was worth 25¢. The refreshments were served by Alice Yount's able assistants, the coffee being donated by Hill & Blauer.

The following program was given: Piano duet, Grace Moesser, Ada Paul; dialogue, eight little maids, Estella Ludwig (teacher), Minnie Veria, Ida Deck, Matilda Moesser (Topsy the star), Maud Sutton (Polly the baby), Winnie Biggs, Fredda Moesser, Mary Crissman and Nellie King; vocal solo, "The Dear Home-land," Mrs. Wm. Sackman; quartette, "Hail Home of Liberty," Mrs. Sylvester, Estella Ludwig, Lillian Post and Emma Chapman; reading, "No Coward Wears the Blue," Nellie King; "Old Grimes is Dead," a musical comedy, was well given by the following ladies: Ella Lask, Nellie McTaggart, Minnie Veria, Lizzie Maris, Catherine Fischer, Mary Crissman and Emma Chapman. A pleasing solo entitled "The Flag of Uncle Sam" was contributed by Winnie Biggs and addresses by George Huntington of Newport Heights and Judge Langley were enjoyed. The program closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Estella Ludwig and Emma Chapman, all joining in the chorus, Grace Moesser and Mrs. Thomas were the accompanists for the singers.

—Full line of D. M. C. Merigous Bros.

We doubt whether there was ever a time when the same quality and amount of musical instruction could be obtained at so reasonable cost as at present.

If you have failed to investigate what the Conservatory offers you in the way of free theoretical branches of musical study and a generally rounded education, it is certainly your loss as well as ours. Better inquire tomorrow morning by phone if you cannot come in person.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

Seventy-four Graduates Join in Giving Program of Merit at Opera House

The opera house, filled to its utmost capacity last evening, with parents and friends of the intermediate graduates, encouraged the young people to put forth their highest efforts and the entertainment they gave was, indeed, an excellent one.

The school maids in their spotless white middie suits, carried a bouquet of purple violets, their girlish simplicity being a pleasing note as the class of past Professor Roberts, who, in words of sincere praise, voiced his pleasure in presenting their diplomas.

The entertainment opened with the impersonation of characters from well known poems and this part of the program paid high compliment to the efficient training by Miss Verna Peterson and the cleverness of her pupils.

The character impersonations were as follows:

Hiawatha and Minnehaha Andrew Kramer, Margaret May, Maud Muller Violet Campbell, Horatius Robert Anderson, John Alden and Priscilla Vernon Gregg, Catherine Bybee

Barfoot Boy Donald Jerome, Barbara Friedrich Maydell Jernigan, Lancelot and Elaine Kenneth Morton, Sallie Covington

The second part of the graduation exercises was devoted to the operetta "Kurika, the Gypsy Maid." The principals in this attractive little cantata were "King of Kola," Truman Dawes; "Prince Darcail," Hillard Tyrell; "Zurika," Gladys Preble, and "Elizabeth," Elizabeth Roy.

The gay costumes of the Gypsy band around their glowing campfires made the scenery realistic and the graceful dancing of the Gypsy entertainers who, in everyday life are Frances Baker and Mamie Tucker, won a score of applause from the appreciative audience.

"Worry, Worry, Worry," as sung by the court jesters, Neal Raker, Arthur Perkins and George Baker, lent a comical strain to the final scene, and though it was hard to believe that a trio of mischievous school boys could ever take the part of graceful, fluttering fairies, this proved to be the case, the honors belonging to Ezra Sauerman, Clarence Hoefler and Donald Jarome.

The singing of "Dreamland" by the entire company pleasantly closed the pretty cantata, the success of which is due to the faithful efforts of Miss Hazel Bemis.

Among the mid-winter graduates were: Robert F. Anderson, Frank Andrews, Clara Emma Ayman, Ollie Ida, Appuhn, Myrnie Virginia Attwood, Frances Jean Baker, George H. Baker, Louis Burkhead, Ruth Emma Boyd, M. Verdelle Breckenridge, Eunice Buell, Catherine Bybee, Violet L. Campbell, Armond B. Carpenter, Sallie Elizabeth Covington, Dorothy Jean Davenport, R. Truman Dawes, Raymond K. Eastman, Jacob Fisher, Elsie B. Fulor, Simon Fluor, Vernon L. Gregg, Lillian M. Harper, John D. Hayes, Helen Hoffman, Clarence William Hoefler, Kenneth Horton, Paul Irvine, Bernice Wilona Jameson, Catherine Jasper, Maydell Jernigan, Donald G. Jerome, Sybil A. Kaneon, Andrew M. Kramer, Edith Lutz, Margaret Ruby May, Marguerite May, George L. McClelland, Ruth Michel, Cecil K. Moon, Fannie R. Nasir, Eddy A. Newman, Ermond Parks, Arthur B. Perkins, Gladys Mae Preble, Neal Calvin Raker, Dorothy M. Rastede, Janice Grace Reed, Orpha Pauline Reedy, Ethel Lorraine Roberts, Florence G. Robertson, Natalie Robinson, Elizabeth Grimes Roy, Charlotte Marie Russer, Ezra W. Sauerman, Marion E. Scudder, Bernice Sears, Thomas Shannan, Rose Annette Schroeder, Lois Marveta Smith, Bortram N. Snow, Bordella C. Stark, Margaret Okla Stout, Maynard M. Thorp, William R. Tidball, Fay A. Titus, Arnold Towns, Anna Mary Tucker, Hillard E. Tyrell, Nina L. Vance, Wellesley G. Webber, Dee L. Wilkinson, Frederick H. Wright, Esther V. Yensen.

Mrs. Walton, from the losing side calmly rose and said, "My address is Rural Route No. 5, Anaheim," which caused peals of laughter to break forth.

Mrs. T. J. Houghton, who was quite prominent on the winning side and who fourteen members "all by her lonesome," told in glowing terms how her side won. The losing side then in a body rose and sang "We lost, we lost because we lost," to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," which was quite a "take off" to the flowery address preceding.

Last, but certainly not least, was an original poem by Mrs. E. A. Clardy, "How They Won, and the After Effects."

Special praise should be given Mrs. Gilbank and her efficient helpers. The affair was one of the jolliest and merriest in the history of the Missionary Society.

Mrs. Clardy's Poem

They visited and visited all over town From early morning till after sun down, Until some of the husbands said, very meek,

We have to take anything we can get to eat

"They don't stay home long enough to cook."

"Why! at times we hardly get a look! Some went to the country and staid three days,

Visited everybody in hedges and by-ways, But visited at last, to their dismay,

For three of them got sick and had doctors' bills to pay.

They beat us by points so very few, But over it they made much ado

And said, "We must have turkey, and cranberries, too,

Burnt sugar cake and something new," We gave it to them, but served such a way

I don't think they'll get foundered and have another doctor's bill to pay.

So to win by points so very few, I'd rather give a luncheon than get sick, wouldn't you?

Here's to the New Members

I extend a welcome, hearty and true, From all the old members to each of the new.

We hope you'll attend every meeting this year, Tho' at times you may count it a sacrifice dear.

But come! Join hands with this missionary band, And do your part in this work so grand.

There's a work for each of us to do, So come, join your work; the Master wants you.

Epworth League Social

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church held a most enjoyable social in the parlors of the church last evening. The early part of the evening was spent in making scrap books.

After playing a number of games, the league was divided into two divisions for the new membership campaign. It is expected that this campaign will greatly increase the membership of the Epworth League.

M. E. MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Victorious Members Are Banqueted by "Losers" in Exciting Contest

The losing side in the recent contest held by the members of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, gave the promised luncheon to the winning side and a reception to the new members yesterday. The dining room in the church was unusually attractive with the snowy tables decked with bowls of red geraniums surrounded by garlands of smilax, and when the appointed hour, 3 o'clock, arrived more than ninety guests had assembled in the parlors of the church.

When invited to the dining room much merriment was enjoyed finding places, which were marked by tiny Heinz pickle place cards. The winning side had insisted on having a turkey banquet that, disliking to disappoint them, Mrs. Gilbank very cleverly arranged little turkey stickers attached to a toothpick on one end of which topped with a cherry, and when these were served on plates, the joke was enjoyed immensely.

Mr. Organ, the Heinz demonstrator, who is certainly an artist in his line, served in an elaborate way several of Heinz's most delicious products. The coffee was donated by Mrs. F. E. Miles, wife of the grocer, and was the famous Wedding Breakfast brand, so brightly pleasing to all epicurians.

The following menu was served: Heinz cream of tomato soup with walnuts; turkey and cranberry sauce (alluded to before); Heinz kidney beans with India relish and hot buttered rolls; cabbage and celery salad, topped with a big Heinz olive; Heinz plum pudding and hard sauce; burnt sugar cake and coffee.

All of the Heinz products were delightful and served in a pleasing manner, but the plum pudding particularly brought forth much praise as being "the best I ever ate."

A great deal of credit is due Mr. Organ for the success of the luncheon. The toasts were all original and most of them in rhyme. Mrs. Kirven extended a hearty welcome to the new members as winning captain. Mrs. A. N. Zerman in a charming manner considered the losing side and advised them in another contest to consult some of her side, who could enlighten them on "How to win points," and presented the president with an exquisite bouquet of violets and maiden-hair ferns for having appointed her captain of the winning side. She also presented Mrs. Gilbank with a similar bouquet as a "peace offering."

Mrs. Zerman a plate of toast, responded with, "The best of toast is made of day-old bread," which brought forth much fun and laughter.

Mr. Palmer, in his quaint but pleasing English, made a short address, complimenting the ladies on their genuine hospitality and true friendliness, declaring that she knew for she was a "stranger in a strange land."

Mrs. Walton, from the losing side calmly rose and said, "My address is Rural Route No. 5, Anaheim," which caused peals of laughter to break forth.

Mrs. T. J. Houghton, who was quite prominent on the winning side and who fourteen members "all by her lonesome," told in glowing terms how her side won. SURPRISE CELEBRATION

Sunday School Pupils Honor Birthday of Miss Glidden, Their Popular Teacher

The home of Miss Mildred Joyce at 109 Cypress avenue was a scene of safety on Friday afternoon when she entertained her teacher and classmates of the First M. E. Sunday school.

The event was a surprise to the teacher, Miss Zoe Glidden, in honor of her birthday. The house was decorated not only with complimentary to Miss Glidden but also to the past great president. At the close of the games refreshments were served, including the birthday cake, not bearing its burden of candles, but a large question mark. A general good time was enjoyed and hearty good wishes and reluctant good byes were exchanged between teacher and the following pupils: Irene Perine, Grace Garrett, Alice Heil, Alice Cozad, Flossie Morrison, Rachel May, Marjory Arnold, Florence Blackness, Donna Horton, Mildred Joyce.

A Real Philanthropist

The world is hearing much just now about heroism in connection with war. We are weary of war and warring, so we offer in competition the story of a hero in peace.

James C. Willoughby died a short time ago in Los Angeles and the press made brief mention of the fact with the explanation that the deceased was a philanthropist and the man who had lived twelve years with a broken neck.

In deference to one of the bravest souls that ever guided a broken body, I wish the world to consider for a little moment the life of this man who was cut down in his prime. He died one way into a shallow stream and crushed there in a tundra in his neck. But he did not die. He did, however, become a cripple. His fortune went in doctor and hospital fees and his limbs wasted away until only the skin covered his bones. Unable to walk, he went about in a wheel chair. To rest at night he was compelled to sleep face down.

In this condition he spent his days doing good. A telephone stood by his bed in the Hadley Memorial home, and with this he reached out to the commercial world and found positions for the army of unemployed and pauperized men who came to the home. No one heard him complain. Such life is a man's way he met with a smile, just as he met the whimpering, cowardly able-bodied men who came to him to beg for help.

Whenever a man came to the Hadley home with a hard luck story he was told that Mr. Willoughby would help him get on his feet again. Imagine the effect on a big, strong fellow when the door opened and he found a smiling cripple holding out an emaciated hand of welcome and a promise of work.

Could any method have been devised to more completely shock men into a sense of their wasted opportunities and unused possibilities?

Willoughby was a living example of the triumph of the spirit. He was a hero whose achievements cost no blood and no tears. His monument is built of redeemed lives. He died, and the world took no notice. He was nothing but a philanthropist with a broken neck.—E. L. L., in California Woman's Bulletin.

The Fifth Section of Household Economics met Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Burns. There was a good attendance and the addition of a few new members. Roll call was answered by suggestions, "New Tools in the House."

"Hello Girls" Hold Revelry

A jolly party of the employees of the Home Telephone Company held a merry-making last evening at the home of Misses Ethel and Elsie Morrow, 211 East First street.

A color motif of red and green was employed in the decorative scheme. Strands of red and green crepe paper were draped from central chandeliers to the corners of the living room in bower-like effect, and curtains were gaily trimmed with bright red hearts of various size.

Clever games were played and violin music by Rex McDonald was greatly enjoyed before the young people were served with ice cream and delicious cakes.

Those who joined in the evening's fun were Misses Beta Gwynn, Eleanor Adams, Stella Titchenal, Marie Shotton, Mary McDannald, Lena Young, Hazel Rees, Ethel Morrow, Elsie Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Raney, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Webber and Messrs. Henry Forging, Francis Westgate, Kenneth Morrison, Estol Roehme, Leon Elliott, Joe Champion, Rex McDannald, Lynn McDannald and Paul Cassaday.

Entertained Directors

E. V. S. Pomeroy, vice president of the Orange County Country Club, entertained the directors at a sumptuous six-course dinner Thursday evening at his beautiful residence on South Broadway.

Violets were used as table decorations and after full justice had been accorded the appetizing menu, the regular business session was held in the spacious living room.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Pomeroy were Charles E. Twist, president of this club; George B. Shattuck, treasurer; Harry L. Hanson, secretary; Lou H. Wallace, Robert Simon, H. C. Rutherford, S. B. Brown, S. E. E. Babson and A. C. Twist.

LITTLE MISS MAKES BIG HIT IN A CUTE ROLE

A cunning little miss, who appears to have just arrived from the "Land of the Wooden Shoes," is holding court in the show windows of the White Cross Drug Store today.

Her pretty little face, peeping demurely from beneath the quaint Dutch bonnet, is framed with a wealth of golden curls and attired in a neat house gown of blue with spotless white apron, she is indeed a model "little Dutch housewife," an ideal advertisement for Cudahy's Old Dutch Cleanser, which is being sold at the White Cross for four cents only, with purchase checks of twenty-five cents.

The little lady who, so innocently, is winning the admiration of all who pass the window, is the five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Maudine Blackburn, 409 Van Ness avenue, and she is attracting much attention to the spot and span quality of this favorite "dirt chaser."

Seeking Mrs. Chas. McKee

County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb has received two letters from Dr. C. C. Merrill of Carson City, Nev., asking him to aid in locating Mrs. Charles McKee, who eight years ago lived near Santa Ana. Mrs. McKee's maiden name was Nettie Baxter. Mrs. McKee's mother is now over 80 years of age and is anxious to get in touch with her daughter.

Riches of California

The total assessed value of all property in California, the operative and non-operative, in 1914 was $3,232,646,152, compared with $3,114,136,640 in 1913, an increase of four per cent. These figures are given by the State Board of Equalization in its annual report made public this week.

During 1914 the mileage of railroads in the State, including inter-country electric and steam roads, increased 203.21 miles, the total mileage in 1914 being 7271.13 and in 1913, 7067.93. The state board has increased the assessments of the railroads over $5,500,000, the total assessed valuation in 1914 being $156,849,882 against $151,113,742 for 1913. Including that covered by the Pullman company, the State has a total single-track railroad mileage of 11,710.97. In 1914 the average assessed value per mile of railroad was $779.20, against $788.09 in 1913.

During 1914 the board assessed 20,979 corporations of which 151 were railroads and street car companies; 192 light, heat and power companies; 182 telephone and telegraph companies, twelve car companies, 355 insurance companies, 782 banks, 1156 mining companies, 993 water companies, ninety-seven building and loan companies and 16,182 miscellaneous corporations.

"The State is losing much money," says the report, "through the invasion of the transportation field by the motor bus and truck. While it is not necessary to be assumed that all the passengers and freight carried by these vehicles would otherwise have moved over railroads, yet a large part of them would have doubtless done so."

"The Pacific Electric Company, which has made careful observation of this competition with their lines, reports to this board that the company alone is losing $20,000 a month or $240,000 per annum from this cause. The State tax on that alone would have been $11,400. One company alone carried 122,686 passengers in a period of thirteen days with an estimated revenue of nearly $24,000. It is probable the State loss from this source is at least $200,000 per annum. In addition to the big double-deck busses and other large motors that ply over more or less regular routes and on a more or less definite time schedule, there are many smaller vehicles plying for hire on less regular schedules, all doing the same kind of business which comes under the purview of the State tax system."

"It would appear that the State tax system ought to be extended to cover these carriers, both to protect the State revenues and in justice to the taxed transportation companies."

Because a tax on their gross receipts could only be secured through a constitutional amendment, the board favors a heavy license tax to achieve the same end.

President Wilson Optimistic

"Business all over the country is improving slowly but surely." This is the emphatic declaration of President Wilson regarding general conditions. His optimistic view is based on reports gathered by government agencies having to deal with business interests of all kinds. The president's declaration was in answer to a charge made by some manufacturers that industrial conditions in the United States are growing worse instead of better, owing to the new tariff. The president made a flat denial of the charge.

President Wilson repeated his firm conviction that business, now showing marked improvement, would go ahead with great strides during the coming year and that the wisdom and sufficiency of the tariff law would be proven. The president also said that the time limitation of the present session of congress would act as a spur on the legislators and facilitate action on much valuable legislation to be put through. This will result, in his opinion, in obviating necessity for a special session and revive business from uneasiness over dissensions involving the threat of new and additional legislation.

California Orange Day

March 20 will be California Orange day, the several Chambers of Commerce in Southern California and representatives of the citrus fruit industry having decided to make California Orange day a permanent annual feature. At a meeting held in Los Angeles Monday these resolutions were adopted:

"WHEREAS, The setting aside of a date for a California Orange Day last year proved such an unbounded success in every way and especially in furthering the orange market by advertising to the world the wonderful quality of California oranges, as well as calling attention to the fact that California stands foremost as the greatest orange State in the Union; be it

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of this meeting that a day be perpetuated and that arrangements be made to observe March 20 as California Orange Day this year; be it further

RESOLVED, That the directors of the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego be requested to change the day set aside for Orange Day at that exposition from March 22 to March 20, which date would conform to the general plan for a State day; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Governor Hiram Johnson be requested to issue a proclamation fixing March 20 as California Orange Day throughout the State and that all county and city governments, all Chambers of Commerce and Board of Trade and other agencies of progress be asked to participate and co-operate in making the day an epoch-making one in the history of the State."

Telephone Rates in Calgary

In 1908 the telephone system of Calgary, Canada, was taken over by the government. The result is that the rates are from 37 per cent to 140 per cent higher than were the rates of the private company. The business rate is now $48 or $51 yearly according to the kind of equipment, while the same service under private ownership was rendered at $35 and $48. When the government first operated the system, rates for residences were reduced five dollars per annum, but the old Bell rates of $25 and $27 have now been resumed, and instead of $20 for each trunk line for a private branch exchange, the government now asks $48.

Fruit Concession at Fair

All fruits sold on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific Exposition by the Package Fruit Exchange, who have the concession, will be furnished by the Stewart Fruit Company, independent handlers of citrus and deciduous fruits, in the principal fruit producing districts of the State.

To Save Natural Gas

Three latest improved Trumble Gas traps are to be installed by the St. Helens Petroleum Company on their five wells in the Midway district to conserve the natural gas which heretofore has been escaping. It is said the gravity of the oil is increased nearly three degrees by the installation of the trap.

Marriages in California

The State Bureau of vital statistics in its annual report shows that in 1914 there were 31,902 marriages compared with 31,383 in 1913, at the rate per 1000 population in 1914 of 11.5. Of the 58 counties in the State 42 showed increases in marriages, two the same total and 14 small decreases. Los Angeles county leads the list with 7441.

Control of Coast Steamer Lines

For the first time the United States Supreme Court has decided that local commerce between the mainland of a state and an island belonging to it is subject to state regulation. The decision was in the case of the Wilmington Transportation company which was taken up by the company on injunction proceedings to keep the state railroad commission from regulating rates between San Pedro and Avalon. The contention was that, as the trade was twenty-one miles over the high seas, the company was subject only to federal regulation and should be classed as foreign commerce. The court decided that the state railroad commission was entitled to and given jurisdiction over coastwise steamers engaged in intra-state traffic. This means that the Pacific Coast Steamship company, the North Pacific Steamship company, the Pacific Navigation company and other smaller concerns will find themselves obliged to file tariffs of rates and have to ask the railroad commission whenever they want to change a rate or issue bonds. It also leaves a way open for the public to file complaints against service and rates.

The Railroad Commission has issued a call upon the companies affected stating "The Commission takes for granted that the decision of the United States Supreme Court giving to the State jurisdiction over freights and fares on steamers plying regularly between San Pedro and Avalon, Catalina Island settles the question as to the jurisdiction of the commission. Avalon is thus ruled to be a part of California."

As to passes they will be relegated, a notice regarding the decision containing this statement: "The commission has received numerous complaints concerning the service of steamships of this character, and also concerning alleged discrimination between various shippers. Complaint has been granted by the steamships to gain business from shippers."

The commission has given out a statement discussing the effect of the decision. Among other things, it said:

"The effect of this decision is to take steamships plying between California ports out of the twilight zone between State and Federal regulation. The Federal Congress has given no authority to the Interstate Commerce Commission over traffic of this character, and the steamship companies have contended that by the decision of Justice Field in the United States Supreme Court in 1883, the State was powerless in the premises. The net result was that no public authority, either State or Federal, in any part of the United States has exercised any control over the rates or service of these ocean going carriers."

Oil Output in State for 1914

California's oil output in 1914 was 5,000,000 barrels greater than the record year of 1913, when the output was approximately 95,000,000 barrels. This statement is based on figures from reports made to the Independent Oil Producers Agency of California on reports received from ten different fields. The output this year is approximately 103,000,000 barrels but in addition to this output it is estimated that 6,728,000 barrels were shut in, which would show a potential production for 1914 of 109,728,000 barrels. These figures include oil produced and used as field fuel, amounting to approximately 5,000,000 barrels. In 1913 the production showed 97,599,262 barrels of crude. During the same time 1,532,000 barrels were shut in, as compared with 6,728,000 barrels shut in this year.

The only decline noted this year was in shipments. A falling off of 200,000 barrels was noted for the year. This was caused entirely by the war in Europe and is a considerably smaller decrease than many had predicted would be shown.

The showing of the agency is a remarkable one for while many markets have been cut off owing to the war in Europe the industry is shown to be prosperous and this is shown by the fact that practically $2,000,000 in dividends was paid during the year by the companies operating in the State.

Visitors to San Diego Fair

During the month of January there passed through the turnstiles of the San Diego Exposition 180,270 people. The attendance is, in view of the stormy weather of the month, more than gratifying to the management. The exposition is a success financially paying all expenses thus far. San Diego has exceeded other fairs in point of attendance the first month, viz: Omaha, 166,822; Buffalo, 179,339; St. Louis, 125,754; Nashville, 104,525.

Coin Presses Sent to San Diego

The Treasury Department has shipped two coin presses to San Diego where they will be used at the exposition to stamp medals. A bond of $5000 was given to the Treasury to guarantee the safe return of the presses.

State Highways Surveyed

TALBERT

FOUNTAIN VALLEY IS LOSER OF MEET

TALBERT, Feb. 13.—The track meet between Ocean View and Fountain Valley schools, was held last Friday afternoon at the Huntington Beach high school. The score at the end of the meet was 53 to 41 in favor of Ocean View. Mr. Farmer, principal of the Ocean View school, was judge and manager of the meet. The first places in the shotput, running high jump and the 100-yard dash were won by the Fountain Valley boys. The work done by the local boys was well worth the praise of all those who witnessed the meet. The local boys were much smaller than those of Ocean View and they were also at a disadvantage, as they were obliged to run only two pupils to Ocean View's three in all the events. The meet was attended by all the pupils of the grammar grade, who went to Huntington Beach on a hay wagon, and after the meet the pupils and teachers enjoyed a lunch on the high school campus.

While standing near the stove at the school house last Wednesday morning, Ethel Isenor was accidentally pushed against it and received terrible burns on both hands and arms. On account of the heavy storm last Tuesday morning the attendance at school was rather small. The regular work could not be carried on, and in the afternoon the pupils present enjoyed a taffy pull given by the teachers.

The pupils are busy at work making valentines for the Valentine boxes, which both rooms of the school will have next Monday afternoon.

Miss Mildred Mead, principal of the school, was an overnight guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan last Friday.

People come long distances for the true FOLEY'S—over thirty years the leading remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial and influenza coughs. Sold by all druggists.—Advertisement.

AT THE COURT HOUSE
TO USE SCREEN
IF INSPECTOR
DIRECTS

City Authorities Upheld by Judges Thomas and West,
Sitting en Banc

Under the contract the city's inspector on the Chestnut avenue paving job may require that gravel be screened before it is used in making the concrete base.

This, in brief, was the decision of Judges Thomas and West, sitting together this morning. The occasion of two judges sitting en banc in this county was the first in the history of the county.

Attorney H. C. Head, representing George C. Roy, receiver of the Crandall Construction Company, stated to the court that the receiver desired instructions as to the meaning of the words in the contract. The contract says that "aggregate Santiago creek gravel" shall be used to the satisfaction of the street superintendent and the street inspector. City Attorney Heathman and Clyde Bishop were among the attorneys interested. The city has contended that if the inspector does not like the looks of the gravel, if he thinks it has too much sand, he can direct that it be screened.

N. E. Crandall said that when he took the contract he did not expect to have to screen the gravel. He would not say that to screen it would cause a loss. E. C. H. Franzen, the inspector, and City Trustee W. L. Grubb testified that most of the gravel is all right, but that some of it ought to be screened. It was estimated that about one-sixth should be screened in order to make a good job. Col. S. H. Finley was on the stand as to quality of gravel.

The judges decided that a contract of the kind entered into means that good work must be done. Moreover, the clause that it must be done to the satisfaction of the city authorities implies that screening may be demanded.

FLOWER GARDENS PROMISE TO FLOURISH IN GREAT PROFUSION

Flower gardens promise to flourish in luxuriant profusion throughout Santa Ana this spring and summer, judging from the activity that is apparent on every hand.

Bright, delightful weather, such as prevailed today, has had the effect of stimulating horticultural pursuits to a marked degree.

The prolonged period of rainy days has made the flower lover fretful and impatient to get out of doors and start the work of preparing his garden plots for planting. Each succeeding day of sunshine from now on will be the signal for hundreds to get out spade and hoe and rake and indulge in invigorating gardening operations.

Some of these operations will be limited. Many city residents have only a bare dozen feet or so of curbing to beautify while others, more fortunate, have spacious grounds in both front and back yards that await merely the magic touch of nature to make them blossom charmingly and bounteously.

Fortunate as are those living in this section in regard to climatic advantages there can be no doubt that all opportunities for utilizing spare plots of ground for flower and vegetable growing are not grasped as completely as they might be.

"Much more could be done in Santa Ana in the way of beautifying the city with flowers," said County Horticultural Commissioner Roy K. Bishop today.

"There are hundreds of little spaces scattered everywhere which might, and ought, to be used for gardens. Here, where nature is so lavish in her distribution of favors, is the one place in the world where more should be done to co-operate with her. More varieties of flowers can be grown here, practically the year round, than in perhaps any other section, and I really believe that it is not to the credit of those living here that they do not take more advantage of the great opportunities offered."

According to local nurserymen, there is a greater demand for rose slips at present than for any other variety of flower. Next in popularity among gardeners is the carnation, the glowing pansy and the modest violet following.

This is the best time to get the seed beds started. By sowing the seeds now plants for flowering in the summer will be ready for planting during the middle of March.

Seed boxes should be kept in sheltered places and so situated that they may be readily protected from pelting rains and frosts.

Blue grass and clover lawns should also be made now. The rains have thoroughly soaked up the soil and as soon as practicable the ground should be worked and gotten in shape for seeding.

Mel Trotter Is Coming

The famous convert of the Chicago Pacific Garden Mission, the best known mission worker in America today, will be in Los Angeles Sunday, February 28—well known as Rescue Mission Sunday. Mr. Trotter will tell his life story in the Temple Auditorium at 3 p. m., and in the evening will be in a joint service with Dr. James Whitcomb Brougner.

BURGLARS ENTER
EAST FOURTH STORE

Tobacco, Cigars and Cigarettes Stolen by Thieves, Who Pry Open Rear Door

Last night burglars made a raid on the tobacco counter at Mrs. M. R. Ellis' store on East Fourth street. The visitors pried open a rear door and gained easy entrance into the place.

A quantity of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes were taken. The stuff, the smokes and chews, seemed to have a particular attraction for the burglars, for little else was taken.

Sheriff Jackson was called and made an investigation.

will leave immediately to confer with him.

It is insisted in official circles that Germany cannot change her position. It has been agreed by the Kaiser and his advisers that England's commerce must be checked.

It is declared the blockade will be enforced next Thursday as originally intended.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Although the British and German notes from the United States were delivered yesterday not a word has been officially received today.

Neither the German nor British embassy here would discuss the American notes.

Von Bernstorff said he had received no word from Berlin.

It is predicted in administration circles today that both countries will make replies satisfactory to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—It has been learned today that Sweden, Norway and Denmark have all protested to Germany against the latest extension of the German war zone. The Scandinavian protest was couched in language less vigorous than the American, but is said to stand squarely behind the principles of the American note. Holland and Italy, it is understood, will probably send similar protests soon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Ambassador Page this afternoon cabled the British acknowledgement of the receipt of America's protest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—German Ambassador von Bernstorff today presented a warning to Secretary Bryan and Chancellor Lansing that an unfavorable outcome of the steamship Wilhelmnia's case in the British prize court would result in retaliatory measures against England, in which America may suffer commercially.

He suggested it would be to the interest of the United States to seek favorable action by the prize court.

He declared the Kaiser would not tolerate England's plan to starve Germany, and hinted that American commerce might be entirely shut off.

Despite this warning, the State Department indicated that it would await the outcome of the proceedings before making any formal objection.

YANKEE AUTOS WILL GROW IN FAVOR IN SHELL-TORN EUROPE

It is to be expected that as the European war progresses, American motor cars, whether of the touring type or of the truck type for heavy service, will meet with increasing approval from the heads of the motor transport divisions of the various armies. This will be true, not solely because necessity will force their use as the stocks of European-built cars are depleted, but for two other reasons. One of these is that as the drivers become more accustomed to handling them with use, any difficulties that present themselves in the operation of American products will disappear.

A more potent reason, however, is the fact that road conditions are becoming rapidly at least as bad or even worse than those of the bulk of American roads, for which the cars originally were designed. In other words, instead of having to re-design their products for the better road conditions of Europe, manufacturers are finding that the roads over which the war vehicles operate are changing so that they more nearly approach the worst conditions in their native habitat, so of course Yankee cars will show their true worth.

Nearly Time for Yeggman to Make
His Regular Visit

Tonight or tomorrow night a burglary or two will be committed in this city. That is, provided the man who has been conducting the week-end safe-breaking jobs during the past month adheres strictly to the schedule he has outlined for himself.

Just which office or which private residence the yeggman has singled out for his visit this time is, of course, unknown. But that he will be "on the job" is practically certain, judging from the regularity with which the gentleman of the jimmy has made his appearance since he first began operating in this locality.

No doubt he has carefully planned his campaign. Some safe in some office where all is lonely and no passers-by are apt to disturb him as he plies his nefarious trade has in all probability been decided upon by the burglar. Or, if not an office, perhaps the man's criminal eye has alighted upon some prosperous-looking residence. Perhaps the Man Who Operates in the Dark has already carefully studied the habits of the people who live in the house. Perhaps he knows at just what hour of the evening he may safely count on the inmates being away, to a motion picture house, a party or out for an auto ride.

So far as known, local officers have not the slightest clue to the man's identity. Whether the prowling man of crime is short and thick-set or whether he is tall and slim is not known. Whether he is a powerful man, of the hardened criminal type, ready to give desperate battle should he become cornered or whether he is of the novice type of crook, cowardly and unprepared to resist, possible arrest is absolutely unknown.

At any rate the police are keeping a sharp lookout. There can be no doubt that should the yeggman become too bold or perhaps somewhat too careless, he will be quickly apprehended.

AMUSEMENTS

Beatriz Michelena in "Mignon" is at Clure's Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 15, 16, and 17.

Fawless photography, a strong story, and an adequate cast, with the incomparable star, Beatriz Michelena, in the name part. These are the distinguishing characteristics of the five-part photoplay, "Mignon."

In all essentials "Mignon" is a classic photoplay—classic in origin of theme; in its history; in its widespread popularity; classic in respect of those who have been associated with it. Some stories there are which seem destined to remain immortal. "Mignon" is one of them.

Temple Theatre
Tonight will close the last performance of William Farum in "The Sign of the Cross" at the Temple Theatre. All those who have not seen this production should not fail to be on hand tonight, as plays like this are very few and far between.

For tomorrow (Sunday) Hazel Dawn, the late star of the "Pink Lady," will be seen in a splendid comedy drama entitled "One of Our Girls."

Have a good laugh with us and come to the Temple Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday and see Edward Abeles in "The Million"—five reels of roaring, side-splitting laughter.
